Canadians Thought Their Big Vessel Had Broke H + Shaft-She Is Hard Aground, and All he Steam Cract in the Port Can't Budar Het-The First Vessel of Her Clare to Come to Grief in Those Waters.

Say I Bascinco, Oct. 18.-The steamer Australia arrived this morning, bringing news that the British steamer Miowers of the new Canadian Pacific line, from Sydner, N. S. W., to Vaucouver, was stranded at the entrance to Honolalu harber on the evening of Oct. 2. Her passengers and mails were forwarded by the Australia.

The approach of the Miowera ten miles off Diamond Head was telephoned after 7 P. M. Plot Lorenzon started out to meet her. While he was hanging lanterns upon the buoys to saide him in bringing the steamer in the Mowers entered the passage and ran ashore just inside the outer buoy on the west side of

be channel. steamer lying parallel with the channel, in from fifteen to seventeen feet of water, the de being full. Steam was got up on the Govcommenting Ellen, and at 10 P. M. she comsenced tugging astern on the Miowera, being sided by the vessel's crew. No effect, howerst, was produced. Ministers King and Smith boarded the steamer at midnight. Mr. King deled Capt. Scatt to lighten the vessel, and at 1 A. M. the steamer's eraw commenced jetning the coal. No anchors were laid out

During the high tide next morning the steamers Ellen. Makee, and Claudine united their efforts to pull the ship oil, with no result except the parting of hawsers. Three hundred tons of coal had gone overboard. The ship. having only two anchors out, worked around further westward up the reef on account of the force of the swell. Turging astern was renowed by the steamer at high tide toward to the pulling for a time. The rudder fell into the ship proceeding on her voyage, and her assengers and mails were landed next mornhas Passengers were quartered by the ship's Pavies & Co., the agents, on the 4th and 5th made every effort to charter one of the only available steamers, the Claudins and the Alkokee, to take passengers and mail direct to Vancouver. No terms were offered, however, which the agents could accept. fered, however, which the agents could accept, and on the arrival of the Australia on the 7th and on the arrival of the Australia on the 7th she was induced to leave three days earlier than her sheeduled time, and carried the mails and passengers to San Francisco.

On the 4th the Aikoku Maru, a large Japanese steamer, was added to the previous tugging force, the Hawaii taking the place of the Makee. The pulling was still astern and to the westward. Lightening the ship had gone on but from insufficient anchoring, had resulted only in the swell working her up into a position about 400 feet west of her original sea her how being in only 11 feet of water at their hawsers to her bow and puttee in a southerly direction. The Adams had her ansher down using her winches on the hawser is well as her serew. Nothing was accompished, scept to part hawsers. The Adams and Likdlike kept up the strain upon the hawsers throughout the 6th and 7th, when the Adams returned to her berthlinside.

In the mean time a large number of heavy anchors had been laid out so as to moor the coannel. One blade of her propeller is out of the water.

The steamer has been stripped of nearly all her movable furniture and her supplies. Her signes, as far as known, are in good order. So koles have yet been made in the steamer's double bottom. The Miowera is 360 feet long and is of 4.700 horse power. She is worth over $30,0000. No vessel of this class had hitherto come to grief in this part of the ocean. The steamer china had a narrow escape in July, but grounded on the east side of the entrance, where the wind and sea tended to work her off. The greatest zeal has been shown on the part of the Government fangiving assistance. Admiral Skerrett has also lent much aid. It is hoped that experienced wreckers and wrecking appliances will be sent on the stranded Maripasa on the 19th, and, that the stranded

TRYING TO MAKE NEW YORK.

A Stramship from Havana Blown on the inma Binks, but Now Prec. New ORLEANS, Oct. 18.-The Morgan line Reamer El Mar. Capt. Grant. arrived yesterday from New York. Capt. Grant reports that the Spanish steamer Cludad Condal, from Havana for New York, was blown ashore during the hurricans on Oct. 12 on the Bahama Banks. the harricane on Oct. 12 on the Bahama Banks, where she remained for thirty-six hours, when he successed in floating. She was leaking badly, part of her propeller was gone, and her that strung. She is attempting to reach New Jork under her own steam and wished to be reported.

DUNGIRE, Oct. 18.—The lake shore is being arched by the friends of the missing sallors who were on the propeller Dean Richmond, but far their search has been fruitless, and it may be many days before the remainder of the may be many days before the remainder of the bodies are cast up by the waters of the lake. J. E. Rotsford, and J. H. Hogan, two of the owners of the bont, went to the scene of the wreck yesteday. Mr. Hogan thinks the primary cause of the disaster was the blowing away of the smokestacks. That made it impossible to keep up steam, and the vessel drifted help-lessly in the seas and broke up while the brave trew were trying to head her to Buffalo. The owners value the bont at $50,000. She carried about $40,000 insurance. A yawl hoat from the lichmond was picked up at Van Buren Pointyesterday.

The Wreek off Port Colborne.

Burralo, Oct. 18.—It is now settled beyond the shadow of a doubt, that the vessel sunk off Gravely Bay on the Canadian shore just below Port Colborne, is the schooner C. B. Benson which left Buffalo on Friday to load coal at Erie for Toledo. No bodies have been found on the beach, but this is not strange, as not a size body of the craw of nine on the J. C. Flaner, which went down last fall in the same spot, was ever recovered. Cupt. Duff of the Benson, was known as one of the best navigators, both on salt and fresh water. The traw of the Benson consisted of at loast soven met.

NEWS OF A MISSING STEAMER TESTIFIED AGAINST HER MOTHER.

Carrie Clark Tells of Br. Bull's Visite-Amanda's Money Pays Amella's Attmony. Charles E. Clark, who is employed on the elevated roads, obtained an absolute divorce from his wife, Ida, before Justice Ingraham of the Supreme Court yesterday on evidence of her disappearance on June 14, 1883, and her relations with Dr. Charles G. Bull, who disappeared about the same time.

Clark said that he was a policeman living at 317 West Fifty-fourth street, when on the night of June 14, 1883, he went out for patrol duty. He left his wife and six-year-old daughter at home. He returned in the morning and found his child locked in their rooms and his wife gone. He had since been unable to get any tidings of her. His wife's mother, Mrs. Jane MacGregor of Centre Moriches L. L. he testifled, had told him she had neither seen nor heard from her daughter since she fled in

Carrie E. Clark, 16 years old, the only child of the couple, who is now living with Mrs. MacGregor at Centre Moriches, tostified for the father. She said she knew, while a child, of the constant visits of Dr. Bull when her father was on duty.

The day before her mother went away, Carrie said, she and her mother met Dr. Bull on the street. They went to his office. Her mother went into a room with him, and Carrie was left to look over a picture book. When they had been in the other room a while Car-rie saw an awful picture of a snake in the book. She dropped the book and gave a scream. Her mother came to her assistance partly disrobed.

The night her mother went away she told the child:

The night her mother went away she told the child;

"The time has come when I must go, but I am going to return some time."

Mrs. Clark, before her final disappearance, had gone away for several days. Carrie said her mother told her she had been to Chicago with Dr. Bull.

A motion of Amelia Goetz to have Dr. Wolfgang Goetz of 732 St. Nicholas avenue adjudged in contempt for falling to pay $175 arrears of alimony, was denied by Justice Ingraham on the ground that a demand had not been made for the alimony, and no proof of the agree of the decree had been given. Amelia got a decree of absolute divorce in 1883, which gave her the custody of their child and $350 a year. which gave her the custody of their child and $350 a year.

Dr. Goetz said that his wife had driven away his patients so that he was without means, when, on Feb. 10, 1850, he married his present wife, Amanda, in Jersey City. He said that although forbidden to marry again by the decree against him, he had been compelled to marry to extricate himself from his financial condition. He had got part of the alimony he has been paying Amelia from Amanda.

Mrs. Amanda Goetz made affidavit that she owns 732 St. Nicholas avenue, where her husband is now practising, but it is mortgaged for more than half its value. She had to make him the manager of a restaurant and saloon at Seventh avenue and Fiftieth street for a time, as he had lost all his practice.

CENSURED MR. QUINCY.

BOSTON, Oct. 18.-The Massachusetts Civil Service Reform League got after the Hon. Josiah Quincy last night because of his peculiar exemplification of civil service reform in his consular appointments while Assistant Secretary of State. This resolution was Resolved. That the Massachusetta Civil Service Reorm League does not agree with the position recently taken by the Hon. Josiali Quincy, to the effect that it is impracticable, under existing political conditions, A committee of three was appointed to consider and report measures for the application by law or rules of the merit system to the consular service. Mr. Quincy was asked to day

sider and report measures for the application by law or rules of the merit system to the consular service. Mr. Quincy was asked to-day what he had to say about this action. He made this statement:

"I attended the meeting at which it was passed, and the mattor was fully and amicably discussed. I have no exceptions to take to the terms of the resolution, although as I stated in my romarks at the Reform Club, I do not myself agree to the position which it takes.

"The lieve that the most practical method to promote the cause of civil service reform is to agitate for the extension of the scope of the law and the rules. I believe that all experience has shown that very little can be accomplished by endesvors to force executive officers to apply what is called the spirit and purpose of civil service reform or, in other words, to exclude all boiltical considerations in the case of offices outside of the scope of the Civil Service law and rules.

"I occupy the position of a party man, and as such cannot assent to the view that partisan political considerations must be excluded in the case of officers outside of the Civil Service law. But I see no objection to the assertion of the pure merit system by persons who look at the subject exclusively from the civil service standpoint, and not from that of a political party."

A DECISION IN DOG LAW.

Miss Alice Williams's suit against John Mc-Cormick for $10,000 damages for injuries caused by a dog was before Judge Van Wyck in the City Court in Brooklyn yesterday. Mr. McCormick has a big dry goods store at Ninth McCormick has a big dry goods store at Ninth street and Fifth avenue. One evening in August, while Miss Williams was standing in front of the store waiting for a car. Mr. McCormick's cocker spaniel ran out, jostled against her legs, and upset her. She alleged that she suffered much from the fall. It was contended that the dog was not a trespasser, and that there was no negligence on Mr. McCormick's part. Judge Van Wyck took this view of the matter and dismissed the case.

Application for a Receiver for the Ameri can Steam Boller Company.

ALBANY, Oct. 18.-The hearing on the application of some of the stockholders of the American Steam Boller Company of New York for the Attorney-General to bring an action to dissolve the company and for the appointment of a receiver, was called before the Attorney-of a receiver, was called before the Attorney-General to-day. Eugene Fryer appeared in favor of the application and was opposed by William A. Post. Mr. Post asked for an adjournment, in order that he might examine the papers of the other side.

Mr. Fryer said that the assets of the company had been placed in the hands of a trustee, and the Attorney-General made an order that the funds of the corporation be deposited with a trust company within two days, and that a memorandum of the same be furnished the Attorney-General. If the order is compiled with the hearing will be held on the application Nov. 9. If the deposit is not made the application will be held Oct. 23.

WILES OF TWO STRANGERS.

A Brooklyn Fruit Dealer Induced to Pay $30 for a 25-Cent Diamond Ring. A tall, well-dressed man made a purchase last night at Joseph Rafele's truit stand, at Fulton and Duffield streets, Brooklyn, and after receiving his change said that he had dropped a valuable diamond ring. He searched around for the ring for a few minutes, but could find no trace of it. He seemed much exthat he would give him soo for anchorsing.

An hour or so later another stranger made a purchase at the same stand. Just as he was going away he stoored and picked up a diamond-studded gold ring from the gutter. He started off rapidly with the find. Instels followed, and overtaking him, offered $25 for the ring. The stranger refused the offer, but when Ra'ole increased his bid to $39, he clinched the bargain then and there and disappeared with the money.

Kafele expected to clear $20 by the transaction as soon as the owner reappeared. The tion as soon as the owner reappeared. The tall, well-dressed gentleman is not likely to turn up, as a jeweller in the neighborhood pronounced the ring worth only twenty-five cents.

GAS AND A LIGHTED CANDLE.

Mrs. Diem Hugged Beerr to Put ut the Somebody left a gas key turned on in the cellar of Mrs. Pauline Diem's saloon at 7 Great Jones street on Tuesday night. Faul Doerr. the bartender, went down the cellar stairs early resterday morning to discover where the escaping gas came from. He took a lighted candle with him. There was a tremendous explosion the moment the gas came in contact with the flame. The cellar door was blown off, and Doerr was knocked off his feet. The ignited gas singed his eyebrows and bair, and his face and hands were burned. Mrs. Diem ran down the cellar staircase. saw Deerr's plight, and threw her arms around him and hugged him tightly. She did this, she said afterward, because it was the only way she knew of at the moment of smother-ing the flames. The hug proved effective. Her own hands were burned by coming in contact own hands were barned by coming in contact with the finuses.

Roundsman Leeson of the Mercer street squad ran to the salpon and called an ambunance. The surgeon did Mrs. Diem's hands up in cotton and took the cartender to St. Vincent's Hospital.

FOR THE

the daily papers does not appeal at all to persons of the better class. Partially from the nuclearable nature of the locality or improvements; more especially from the uncertainty of its future social character. Yet it is also a well-known fact that many of our better people, those of lair, fixed incomes who are accustomed to liv-ing well, find it difficult to compass the purchase of a residence suited to their taste and requirements. We desire to submit to persons of recognized standing a property and plan which we believe will appeal to them. The character of the Oranges is so well known that it need not be enlarged upon. In the most beauti-ful and exclusive part of South Orange we have purchased the wel-known Tillou estate, within three min-utes walk of the station, and have developed it upon the most approved lines, with a broad, central avenue ("Tillou Road") costing over $10.00%, and lots of un-usual-lize, water, gas, electric lights, and PERFECT RESTRICTIONS $500 to $1,000. A payment of only $50 will be required on any lot out the property, the remainder in monthly portions of 11s per cent of the purchase price. A $1,500 for the thus costs $20 for month; A per cent, interest on all sums impaid, adjusted semi-annually. We pay taxes

int thus costs (20) our menth; A per cent, interest on all sums suppaid, adjusted semi-annually. We pay taxes till deed is given

MOSP! INFORTANT FFATURE. To allow immediate building we will give a deed free of all incumbrances to purchasers upon cash payment of Mospital the value of the lot, we taking second mortgage for the unpaid balance, and permitting the owner to place upon said properly a mortgage for money with which to build we reserve the right, however, to project ourselves in cases where the highlity of the purchaser to pay for said house is distinctly evident or the loan is obviously elecative. Gut praces average somewhat under $20 per front foot, which, with the great depth of our lots, is very little nore than 19 per cent of the value of property of the character in this neighborhood purpose in stating, however, that only after the glights persons will be considered as purchasers, and care will be taken that no one is permitted to lony who will be inconvenient to those living on the property. A number of New York and Grange people, whose names can be learned on application, have bought tells and are hulbling.

If inconvenient to call, a line dropped it of our address will either be answered by further details, or a call from our representative, as is desired.
